One of Telehealth's coveted webinar's Zoom Zoom Zap returns for 'take two'!

Join us for Zoom Fatigue 'take two' - an insightful webinar where panellists will share experiences and identify and explore practical ways to overcome fatigue, the impacts of burnout, as well the psychological aspects of being on screen.

It has been more than two years since the pandemic came into our lives and disrupted everything we know about delivering quality healthcare. Telehealth took the world stage to help health professionals reach patients efficiently and although there are undeniable advantages, burnout is an all too familiar story in the health sector.
